

Newest Fashions in Which Girls May Dress Their Hair

There comes a time in every girl's life when her hair seems her greatest tragedy. It is when mother thinks she is not old enough to do it up and when she herself is fully determined that to have her hair done in the latest style for "grown-ups" is all that could by any possible chance make life worth living.

If you can wear your hair parted there is nothing that will be prettier or more stylish this fall, as every one, girls and women alike, wear their hair parted and, above all, in such a way to show the contour of their heads.

Don't wear a fluffy pompadour. They are hopelessly out of date. If you have long straight hair and a round face put your hair in three braids, one of which you let hang down and the other two wind about your head. This is a fine way to display a wonderful suit of hair. The simpler a young girl dresses her hair the better. You can wear it in the way that is most becoming if you only wear it over your ears and close to your head. The picture shows the very latest and most popular ways of doing children's and young girls' hair, but you can modify them to suit your own style.

PREDICT COLD BLASTS EAST OF THE ROCKIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Wintry weather is predicted for the next few days in the greater part of the country east of the Rocky mountains. "It is probable," said the weekly bulletin Sunday night, "that general frosts will occur the first half of the week in the great central valleys. There will be rains Monday in the upper Ohio valley and the region of the great lakes; otherwise the weather during the next several days will be generally fair east of the Rocky mountains."

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the country will appear in the northwest Tuesday or Wednesday, move eastward and cross the great central valleys Thursday or Friday; this disturbance will be preceded by a general change to higher temperature and be attended by rains."

AT THE SURPRISE.

Robespierre, the most fanatical and famous of the republican leaders of the French revolution, he, who, with a remarkable personality and a dominating will, swayed a people already obsessed with the spirit of revolt, inciting them to the deadliest occurrences which resulted have been given a forcible portrayal by William Shay. Frank Smith, as the Marquis de Beaupre, is also a figure to be remembered, and Jane Feary, in the role of Louise de Beaupre, fiancée of Dumont, for the possession of whose person a promise of the release of her lover was given her by Robespierre, has played in a wonderfully sympathetic manner, presenting a beautiful study of the grief-stricken maiden, who was willing to relinquish even her virtue that he whom she loved best might live.

This three-reel feature will be shown at the Surprise theater today.

NEWMAN TRAVEL TALKS.

Next Tuesday evening, at the Oliver opera house, E. H. Newman will give the second of his new series of Traveltalks, with "Paris—Art, Life, Fashion" as the subject. Beginning at the Place de la Concorde, the easy-chair-travelers will be guided through the Champs-Élysées and the Bois de Boulogne, to the wonderful Cathedral of Notre Dame, and thence to the Montmartre with its spectacular cabarets. Then will follow a visit to the Luxembourg Palace and to the studios of the artists in the "red-light" quarter, to intimate glimpses of the Bohemian life in this quaint section. After a journey to Versailles and Fontainebleau, two delightful suburbs replete with historical reminders and beautiful gardens, the exclusive shops on the Rue de la Paix will be inspected, and glimpses of the Park Monceau, the Pantheon, the noted Church of the Madeleine, the Musée Clévy, the home of Victor Hugo, the Chamber of deputies, Eiffel tower, the Trocadéro, the Bourse and other landmarks will be afforded. By way of novelty, Mr. Newman will then conduct his hearers to the dog cemetery and through the famous Catacombs, and in contrast to this gruesome sight, will show the wonderful department stores and the leading fashion-marts of the world, including the establishments of Worth, Paquin, Poiret and other noted designers.

U. S. MARINE BAND.

The famous United States Marine band, which will visit South Bend next month is 115 years old. Today the greatest military musical organization in the western hemisphere and the peer of the European bands, it was at first a drum and fife corps. When the Marine Corps was established under an act of congress approved by Pres. John Adams in 1798, the law provided for a drum and fife corps, 16 drummers and 16 fifers. For a long time there was no regularly recognized leader. First one member and then another would act as fife major, but the American desire for progress became manifest in this connection, and musicians were imported from abroad to supplement the severely martial style of instruments to which the band had been limited.

Italy provided a group of musicians, who soon succeeded in placing the band on something of an artistic footing. Since that day its prestige has steadily increased until it has now one of the largest and most splendidly equipped governmental organizations for musical performance the world has ever known.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The new bill of vaudeville which opened at the Orpheum Sunday is replete with comedy conversation and "spooney" songs. The featured headline is a sketch entitled "High Life in Jail" and burlesques the comforts and privileges that are allowed some prisoners. Many of the lines are numerous and the singing of a quartet of "prisoners" is a feature. The songs and patter of Fay and Myne come next in importance. The foolery of Fay is amusing at times and his partner assists materially in making the nonsense enjoy### able. Clinton and Rogers are another couple who make their act likeable on account of their personalities rather than the material used. The little lady is ingenious, artful and vivacious, otherwise some of their songs might not be so well received. A comedy sketch, "I Died," deals, as the title indicates, with a rather morbid subject but as the audience is quickly informed that the corpse is only shamming many appeared to find it amusing. The idea is handled in a broad, farcical manner but it seems that there ought to be other subjects for levity selected that would be more cheerful. Preston, an acrobatic clown, is skillful and had the audience at his mercy with his pyramid table rocking.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," the play that will outlive all others, will again be with us at the Oliver theater next Saturday afternoon and night. Kibble and Martin have made a big production of the famous old piece and have engaged a large company including a number of colored singers and dancers. The usual street parade will be given at noon. A full band and orchestra is carried and the usual number of donkeys, ponies, bloodhounds, etc., will be seen.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

What the Majestic theater needs is India rubber walls so that it can expand to twice its normal size to accommodate the crowds that want to see the Angel comedy company. This week's bill is "Higgins' Corners," a rural comedy, full of fun and music, and the crowds yesterday where away beyond the capacity of the house. It is snappy little show the musical stock company is producing and everybody liked it. Arthur Angel, as Silas Sumkins, is some pumpkins as a rural comedian, while Frank DeVoe and Ivy Evelyn score a big hit with the "duet" numbers. The girl chorus is seen to a good advantage and with a real story to carry the plot it makes a very attractive entertainment.

NEW STOCK COMPANY ARRIVES THIS MORNING

The Lucille LeVerne Stock Co. arrived Monday morning at 11 o'clock over the Grand Trunk and rehearsals of the new play to be produced at the Auditorium began at once in the afternoon. "The Gentleman From Mississippi" will be the first bill opening next Sunday, featuring Thomas Wise in his original role. He is the first of the traveling stars that will visit this company from time to time during their sojourn at the Auditorium. The new policy has caused much favorable comment and the engagement promises to be a most successful one.

CURRENCY BILL MAY BE NON-PARTISAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Conferences between Pres. Wilson and republican members of the senate banking and currency committee, with a view toward making the pending currency bill a non-partisan measure, will be held within the next few days at the white house.

The president has been assured not only that a report from the committee is possible by Nov. 10 but that the legislation can be enacted before December session, provided the republicans and democrats come to a common agreement on the bill.

Hearings before the senate committee are to be postponed until Oct. 25 but the coming week may see the beginning of preliminary work at night on the bill itself, changes and amendments about which it is felt there is already unanimity being in contemplation so as to leave as few disputed points as possible for next week.
